

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ROPER DISPOSAL

Editor, Daily Union: Prescription opioid painkillers are responsible for more fatal overdoses in the U.S. than heroin and cocaine combined, according to the Center for Disease Control

Please be aware of the danger within your own home, and keep all medications away from your children. If you are no longer using these medications, please dispose of them properly.

Please do not flush them down the toilet, as those chemicals will end up in our waterways.

There is a drug drop box at entrance of the Jefferson County Sheriff's Department, as well as police departments in Fort Atkinson, Watertown, Lake Mills and Whitewater. Remove your personal information from the bottle, but leave on the label that identifies the content of the bottle.

Drug abuse is a serious problem in this country, and prevention begins at home. — Dick Schultz, Fort Atkinson, chairman, Jefferson County Board of Health.

SUCCESSFUL TOURNEY

Editor, Daily Union: Legion Post 166 would like to thank the following people and businesses for their help to have a successful fishing tournament this summer.

Thank you to Pike Pole Fishing, Nasco Store, Petit's Lakeview, Snuffy's Still, Lucy's Hideaway, Fort Community Credit Union, Pepsi Co., Pete's Place, Blackhawk Tavern, Dig and Kat's, Capputan, Pick 'n Save, Papa Murphy's, Culvers, Capn's Roadhouse, Family Video, Ace

Hardware and Kwik Trip.

Also a big thank you to Dick Smith's Live Bait and Tackle, Mountain Man Firearms, Dan and Mary Juday, Wisconsin Conservation Club, 10-33 Liquor and Bait, Rivers Edge, Rushing Waters, Tom Freeman, Black Family, Scotties Eat-Mor, Vern Zech, Don and Cindy Krebs, Badger Bank, Jeff Patrick, Abc Acres and the Daily Union for all you have done.

If we missed anyone, also thank you.

We will be holding another Fort Atkinson Legion Post 166 Fishing Derby in 2015 on June 6. Stay tuned for more details in the coming year.

Again, we would like to thank one and all who have helped make this a success. — Members of the Fort Atkinson Legion Post 166 Fishing Tournament Committee.